News From SFX

We hope you and your families have a blessed Christmas! Enjoy your Christmas break and we look forward to welcoming everyone back to school on January 7th, 2019. As we celebrated Ms. Cavnar last week, students wrote cards to her reflecting on her time at SFX. Here is Will Swiergol's, 4th grade student, poem that he wrote to her. Merry Christmas!

Thank you Ms. Cavnar for all you have done; you undoubtedly have our hearts and souls won.
You have laid out our path, protecting us from the wrath set onto our lives.
We were the flower, and you were the tree, providing us with all we need.
You prevented us from ever falling, even when we felt like bawling.
You helped us out of the snow and sleet, that is quite a feat, which sums up what you did, you never treated me like a kid, but like an important being.
You are the best of principals, really rather invincible. I hope you do well years to come, whatever you do, whatever the sum.
Even when you retire, your legacy will last forever,
I hope you remember what you taught,
but for you I doubt naught,
because you really are the splendid Ms. Cavnar.

~Poem by Will Swiergol, 4th grade student
