News From SFX

Dear Parents,

As we settle into the new normal each member of our transition team has been asked the same question: "How does this team of four work?". At first the question surprised us because, from our perspective, it has been so natural. You may not have realized, but Kim Cavnar has led for many years with a shared leadership model, always inviting members of our school team to contribute where their strengths allow.

Organization - Keep it Simple

The key to organization is actually simple, it's just not easy. There are only 2 steps: 1. everything has a place and 2. everything is put in its place.
